Announcing our First Aid Safety Division

Certified Fire is thrilled to announce the start of our First Aid and Safety Division. Through this paramount service, we will be offering the same integrity, honor and commitment that we've served our fire protection clients with for over 39 years. We are excited to be partnering with the very best in the business, two suppliers that have been offering the finest in First Aid and Safety products and equipment. AFASSCO and R3 Safety have been pioneers in the business since as early as 1970.

Our goal is to assist our clients in continuing to meet or exceed OSHA standards and help to promote a safe work environment through continued training, resources and advanced technology. With our fully stocked warehouse and service vehicles, we can generally take care of your needs the same day. Also available to our customers is a fully searchable online catalog for other items you may need. Whether it is Band-Aids, eyewash stations, full-face respirators or any of your other first-aid or safety needs, please visit our website at www.certifiedfirepro.com and simply click on the product or service item.
